Dissatisfied Readjusters - The Republican Features of the Platform not Palatable-Deaths of Old Citizens.

[Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] The declaration in the platform of the Mahone Convention that the Coalition-Reto the graduates by General Hancock. djuster party is the Republican party of Virginia, while it is gladly welcomed by the colored voters, does not arouse any enthusiasm among the white followers of the Senator. On the contrary, it has rather chilled the political ardor of a good many of the latter class, and, if reports be true, a number of those who have heretofore a number of those who have heretofore acted with the Readjuster party will drop out of the ranks of the coalition and return to the Democratic fold. They declare that the platform adopted by the Convention leaves them free, politically, to act as they please, and that they do not intend to be led into the Republican party. This to be led into the Republican party. This is the talk of many.

The Democrats had a harmonious convention last night, and elected a strong delegation of representative men to the State Convention. There was no discussion of any issues in the Convention, no inquiries as to the predilections of delegates for any candidate for the presidency, and no instructions were even suggested. and no instructions were even suggested.

Mr. James Dunn, aged about sixty years, a most estimable and respected citizen, died last evening. He was one of the volunteers from this city for the Mexican war, and for a number of years was a prominent merchant.

The remains of Mrs. Martha Inge, wife of Mr. Vincent Inge, of this city, who died yesterday, were to-day sent up to Lunenburg for burial.

Fatal Accident-Violent Death of Rockbridge Farmer. The Lexington Gazette gives the following particulars of the death of Mr. Daniel Swisher, a well-known and highly-respected Rockbridge farmer, who was killed while returning from Staunton with a load of coal and plaster: Mr. Swisher was driving a four-horse team, and while de-scending a declivity known as Chestnut Hill, not far from Newport, the lock of the wagon broke. As the heavily-laden wagon rushed upon the wheel-horses they began kicking, and Mr. Swisher, in attempting to dismount from the saddle-horse, got his foot caught in the stirrup and fell. An instant
